RINGMISTRESS

MRS. SOUBY

Without Mrs. Souby, our ringmistress, the circus could not go on. She directs and co-ordinates the "Big Top" performers; she advises and inspires each of us in our arduous ascent from freshman tumblers to senior trapeze artists. Our ringmistress serves as a standard for the quality of the performance. She boosts spirit and morale as well as keeps clowns and lions in check. We wish to thank you, Mrs. Souby, ringmistress of our circus, for encouraging the novices with your understanding and for instilling in the veteran troupers your gracious dignity and high ideals.

MISS MIMS

It is with much love and appreciation that we, the annual staff, dedicate the 1960 MILESTONES to Miss Mims. A trainer of star performers, she disciplines with calm firmness, teaches with a keen sense of humor, and softens correction with understanding and sympathy. In homage to the characteristics which make Miss Mims an excellent trainer, we enthroned her as honor guest at this our "Command Performance." It is in tribute to Miss Mims that the following circus highlights parade in review.

ANGKOR CLASS

The Angkor Club of Harpeth Hall is known for its group spirit. By working to gain honors in the fields of citizenship, scholarship, and athletics, each member tries to gain recognition for her club. The unity and spirit of the Angkor Club are evident in each member's active participation in club functions such as the Thanksgiving and Easter projects. The activities of the school year are climaxed by an all club picnic at which every Angkor sings the song written especially for this occasion.

ARISTON CLASS

"On Aristons" is a phrase that has inspired every member of the Ariston Club throughout the year 1959, 1960. In every field—scholarship, athletics, and sportsmanship—each girl has shown her talent and her determination. Interest in the club and its activities has been high among its members. When clothes were collected for the needy and parties were given for day homes, everyone was ready and willing to do her share. It can truly be said that the Aristons are going "forward to the goal."

ECCOWASIN CLUB

The Eccowasin Club provides for its members a three-fold program which includes the qualities of scholarship, high ideals, and loyalty. The stress on scholarship is embodied in the competition among the clubs for the trophy awarded to the club with the highest average. High ideals are promoted in all phases of club activity. Eccowasin means "Be all and give all," and this motto is carried out in the charity projects given at Thanksgiving and Easter. Participation in all club competition reaches its height in sports. As the members compete with the three other clubs, they work not only for achievement in skill but also for a feeling of loyalty and of enthusiasm; thus each girl strives to better herself, her club, and her school.

The Triad red and white has inspired its members to complete a successful year. The enthusiasm of each member was evident in her efforts to attain honors in the fields of citizenship, scholarship, and athletics. The Triad Club members participated in worthwhile projects at Thanksgiving and at Easter. This year was enriched by the Triad spirit which prevailed at every club activity. Thus by whole-hearted contribution to school and club affairs, the Triad Club has made 1959, 1960 a year of which it well can be proud.

Throughout the year 1959, 1960 the MILESTONES staff has worked diligently with only one thought in mind—to produce an annual that would please its readers. The staff has proved that work can be fun. It feels that if the student body is pleased with the 1960 MILESTONES the year will have been a success.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a modified form of student government through which every student at Harpeth Hall has the opportunity to share in the responsibilities of the school. Besides dealing with matters of school discipline, the Council sponsors several annual activities such as the orientation program for new students in the fall, a get-acquainted picnic during the first week of school, and a winter dance usually held at Christmas time. At the close of school at the All-Club picnic, over which the president of the council presides, school spirit awards are presented by the council to one girl from each class.

In the spring of their Junior year, the eligible girls are selected according to their abilities in citizenship, scholarship, and leadership. The main purpose of the Honor Society is to set an example for the rest of the students.

To many students, mention of the word Penstaff conjures up the vision of a green-eyed elf in leafy forest clothes who is seen occasionally during the school year peering from behind bushes, books, and trees in search of talented creative writers. The elf represents a club whose purpose is to encourage writing and literary enthusiasm among its members, who meet together once a month for the purpose of criticizing each other's work. These girls are united by a common interest, and each is proud to claim the Penstaff elf as her own spirit of inspiration.

By offering a wide variety of sports, the Athletic Association of Harpeth Hall enables each student to participate in athletics. The Athletic Association Board, which is made up of the officers of the Athletic Association and a representative from each club and class, supervises the athletic activities of the school. As part of its duties, the Association holds tournaments in all sports and gives club and varsity awards to outstanding participants. The main purpose of this organization is to stimulate, among the students, an interest in athletics and good sportsmanship.

PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL

The Presidents' Council is an organization composed of the Presidents of various groups and clubs at Harpeth Hall. Presided over by Mrs. Soubey, the Council meets twice a year, in the fall and in the spring, to co-ordinate activities and to discuss campus problems. At these meetings, opportunity arises for the students to make suggestions for the future and to take an active part in the affairs of the school.

The Science Club is an organization created for those whose interests lie beyond classroom work. It offers a trip to the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, a Science fair, and work in the experimental "group." In the fall members embark on a week-end to Oak Ridge where they are crammed with facts on nuclear energy. Throughout the year work is done on the Science Fair, an event that gives the members of the club and the "group" a chance to show what they have done. Thus the club combines fun and work with a search for knowledge.

The Junior Classical League is a member of a national organization which strives to create interest in the cultures and languages of ancient Greece and Rome. The programs are usually centered around plays or skits based on subjects about which the different Latin classes are studying. Thus the Junior Classical League helps to keep alive an interest in the so called "dead" languages and cultures.

Students who have studied French at least one year are eligible to join the French Club. During the meetings, which are held once a month, only French is spoken. This club gives students of French the opportunity of using and enjoying the language which they are studying. Members have fun singing songs, playing games, and putting on skits all in French. Several times during the year, guest speakers come to talk about the life, the customs, or the culture of the French people. This year club members attended a banquet at which they enjoyed French cuisine and conversation.

A Spanish course is not complete without membership in the Spanish Club, for this organization provides a varied background for study of the language. At club meetings, held once a month, members may meet a visiting student from Guatemala, look at slides of Mexico and Spain, or practice their own spoken Spanish by participating in games or singing songs. They may break the piñata at Christmas, or sample chili and tamales at the Spanish fiesta in the spring, when everyone wears a sombrero or a serape, when Mary becomes María and Emmie, Manolita; and all become "hispanoamericanas" for a time.

The Art Club is comprised of those students who are interested in the promotion of art appreciation. Outside of class the members participate in interesting activities such as visits to private art collections. Within the school the club works on decorations for school functions and displays a bulletin board of the members' own work. The highlight of the year is the Christmas tea at which the members entertain their parents and faculty.

The Glee Club at Harpeth Hall is a music organization provided for those girls who are musically inclined or who just enjoy singing. The club is an elective course and meets twice a week. During the year, the girls gain a basic musical background, including harmony and sight reading. To give evidence of its achievements, the club presents programs in chapel at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and finally at Graduation. Often it is invited to perform for outside organizations such as the Lion's Club or the Rotary Club. At the close of the year, the group has acquired a large and varied repertoire of music of which it can be proud.
